President's Message

Dear Hardy Quilting Friends,

Well, we made it through another winter! And wasn't it a doozy? Of course we quilters can always make excellent use of bad weather. According to records kept by our LPEA, it was 19% colder than the past 30 year average and we had an above average snowfall of 111%. (I think 100% of that fell on one day in January.)

So we should have made at least 60% more quilts, right? Show & Tell should be lined up out the door for the next few meetings. We've also had inspirational meeting programs, classes and sew days, with more to come. I'm trying to do more scrap quilts from my stash. At this point one is finished and two more are in the works. One is a flannel fisherman's quilt for the Small Quilt Auction. I can't wait until the May meeting to see all the wonderful quilts we have made for the auction.

Today, April 16th, I had the first hummingbird of the season at my feeder. That's the earliest for me. On this same day, I also saw a bluebird, blooming dandelions and tulips and we had our first thunderstorm. Yeah! It really is Spring! Say "Goodbye" to cabin fever! Say "Hello" to sunshine and fresh breezes through open windows! Of course, that's not to say it couldn't still snow some more. After all, this is Colorado.

Keep on quilting!
Noel

BLOCK OF THE MONTH

Janessa Ezzell

This Block of the Month is offered in two different styles. There are 12 months in this project.

One set of instructions is available for redwork, the other for appliqué. The appliqué designs are printed with the expectation of hand appliqué. If you want to use fusible appliqué (such as Heat-n-Bond) you will need to reverse the patterns. Flipping over the pattern onto a light box and tracing it is the easiest way.

The instructions for each month will be given during that month's meeting, with two exceptions; January and February will be given at the February meeting along with general instructions and November and December will be given at the November meeting. Finishing instruction will be available at the November meeting as well. If you have signed up but miss a meeting, Janessa will save your instructions for you.

If you decide at any point throughout the year that you would like to start participating, let Janessa know and she will catch you up. If you decide that you don't want any more blocks, let Janessa know.

2010 Small Quilt Benefit Auction Update

The Small Quilt Auction committee is the best –everyone is right on schedule and I know all of you are working on your quilts. The banner will hang over Main Avenue in mid-May this year, so keep your eyes open for it.

I will have sign-up sheets at the April meeting. If you aren't able to attend the April meeting, don't worry – I'll have the sign up sheets again in May or you can send me an e-mail – cmpfeiffer@gmail.com – and let me know what you want to do.

The deadline for turning in quilts will be the May meeting (May 27, 2010). This is a firm deadline – I need a week to get the Program done for SQA! You can bring your quilts with you or, if you'd prefer, just drop them off at Durango Sewing Center at 1111 Camino Del Rio and I'll pick them up. Remember that each quilt that you donate MUST have a Donation Form attached to it (fully completed, especially the size, please). Donation forms are available on our web site – www.lpqg.org (click on Small Quilt Auction) or from me!

Now I'd like to say a word about the Donation Form. I am really hoping for some creative stories this year. The story of the quilt can make an auction attendee look at a quilt differently, and perhaps pay more for quilt with an interesting story. We have a big goal again this year - $13,000.00 – so we need all the help we can get! By the way, I have a few helpful hints for writing your quilt story. I have a little form entitled How to Write a Quilt Story paper available at the meetings, or just e-mail me and I will get it to you.

All of the quilts that you donate will be shown at the May meeting as part of our Program that night. If you are shy, or would rather not get up in front of the group, just let me know and I'll be happy to show your quilt for you.

Thanks in advance for what I know will be our best Small Quilt Auction so far!

Chris Pfeiffer
